Superbly situated near the Victoria Harbour's waterfront in the fashionable Kowloon district of Tsim Sha Tsui, The Peninsula Hong Kong is the city's most legendary hotel with the longest history —renowned as the "Grande Dame of the Far East". The hotel debuted in 1928 in a beautiful six-storey building. In 1994, an additional 30-storey tower was added, which nearly doubled its accommodation inventory. Whilst the hotel has long been a see-and be-seen destination unto itself – with eight restaurants and bar, a sweeping luxury shopping arcade, and a decadent spa – its location also offers easy access, via railway, ferry, or helicopter to Hong Kong's myriad attractions including Hong Kong Museum of Art, M+ and Hong Kong Palace Museum.

High Tech: All guestrooms feature interactive digital bedside panels in 11 languages, showcasing restaurant menus, hotel information, personalised TV access, valet call and room controls; LED Blu-ray HD flat-screen TVs with Google Chromecast cable and audio/visual entertainment options; complimentary wireless internet access to personal electronic devices; and a nail dryer.
